ALABAMA FAITH COUNCIL STATEMENT ON OBSTACLES TO JUST GOVERNMENT

In 1963, the Reverend Martin Luther King, Jr. wrote the following in a letter to fellow clergy about segregation while in the Birmingham City jail: “Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere.” While Alabama’s segregationist laws have been rendered moot by the federal courts and laws, our 1901 Constitution—Alabama’s sixth one—is still a major impediment to racial and economic justice in the state especially for those whose needs are the greatest and those whose resources in life are the least. Alabama’s 1901 Constitution creates a governmental structure that concentrates power in the legislature where it is easy for wealthy interest groups to perpetuate the Constitution’s unfair impacts on poor and middle class Alabamians.

CONSIDERING THE FACTS:

• John Knox, the President of the 1901 Constitution Convention, said that the purpose of the convention was to “establish white supremacy in this state.”

• There is tremendous evidence that the 1901 Constitution was not legally ratified.

• There is no right to public education in Alabama’s current Constitution.

• The tax code is embedded in Alabama’s Constitution which makes it more difficult to change to a fair and adequate tax system.

• Alabama taxes people in poverty at a rate higher than any other state in the nation. For example, Alabama has one of the most regressive tax structures because of its heavy reliance on sales taxes. Also, our state income tax threshold for a family of four is $12,600 which is well below the federal poverty line.

• A constitutional amendment prohibits Alabama from using any of our state gas taxes towards public transportation. Alabama is the only state east of Colorado that spends no money on public transportation.

• Lobbyists can spend up to $250 per day per legislator without having to report any of it.

• Political Action Committees can transfer donations making it easy to hide the original source of large donations.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES OUR FAITH TRADITIONS SHARE IN COMMON:

• The Torah calls us to pursue justice – “Justice, Justice shall you pursue” – Deuteronomy 16:20; “What does the Lord require of you but to seek justice, love kindness and walk humbly with your God.” – Micah 6:8.

• Jesus taught in the Sermon on the Mount – “Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied.” – Matthew 5:6.

• The Qur’an teaches us to hold fast to justice – "O ye who believe! Stand out firmly for justice, as witnesses to Allah, even as against yourselves, or your parents, or your kin, and whether it be (against) rich or poor: for Allah can best protect both. Follow not the lusts (of your hearts), lest ye swerve, and if ye distort (justice) or decline to do justice, verily Allah is well-acquainted with all that ye do.” – An-Nisa 4:35.

IN VIEW OF THESE FACTS AND PRINCIPLES, WE RESOLVE AS FOLLOWS:

• To apply the principles of our faith to this important and timely issue.

• To study and reflect on the barriers to just government in Alabama.

• To support progress toward a more just government including efforts to create a new Alabama Constitution.

UNDERSTANDING AND REMOVING OBSTACLES TO JUST GOVERNMENT

As more and more individuals and groups become aware of issues of justice in the state of Alabama, the need arises for a list of specific items for prayerful study and action. Whether an individual congregant, a whole congregation or a state-wide faith community, there are several ways to engage in the effort to remove obstacles to just government in Alabama:

STUDY ____________________

- Read the Obstacles to Just Government Statement that is on the Alabama Faith Council’s web site: http://www.alfaithcouncil.org.
- Watch the innovative “It’s a Thick Book” documentary created by Lewis Lehe (either online or by ordering a free DVD): www.constitutionALreform.org/IATB.
- Invite your Sunday school class to study this issue through Greater Birmingham Ministry’s curriculum: www.gbm.org.
- Hold a Wednesday supper program that shows the “It’s a Thick Book” documentary and have a trained facilitator to help answer questions.
- Read the Alabama Arise Tax & Budget handbook and “Four Barriers to Transparency” two-page handout: www.alarise.org/.
- Participate in monthly Obstacles to Just Government Workgroup toll free conference calls.
- Attend a constitutional reform (CR) training session to get empowered to speak with others about these issues and engage them in the CR Movement.

Once you have studied and reflected about these important issues at the heart of justice in Alabama, consider the following ways you can share your time trying to resolve them:

ACTION ________________

- Sign-up to be a part of Alabama’s Constitutional Reform Movement and receive free updates: www.constitutionALreform.org/Get Involved/.
- Arrange a meeting with your state legislators to get their opinion and share yours.
- Organize a letter writing campaign within your congregation.
- Volunteer your time to support the Alabama Citizens for Constitutional Reform Foundation’s Mock Constitution Convention.
- Visit the resolution web site (http://www.constitutionALreform.org/resolutions.shtml) to see if your congregation or faith community has passed a resolution in support of CR. If not, ask your faith’s leadership to reflect on this issue and to consider passing a resolution.
- Work with your local interfaith group to get involved and, if there is no such group in your community, call clergy to arrange a meeting.
- Work with others to develop creative awareness raising activities or calls to action.
- Facilitate or lead a CR training session for people in your community.

There are members in all of the Alabama Faith Council faith groups who would like to be involved in the effort to remove obstacles to just government. If you have ideas on how to reach these people or would like to help, please contact Mark Berte, the Obstacles to Just Government Workgroup Chair: Mark@constitutionALreform.org or (205) 266-3371.
